PROFILE

More dedication than Captain America, more innovative than Tony Stark and not as arrogant as this opening line suggests! This civil engineering superhero is seeking a new team to combine forces and make the world a better place. Highly motivated and passionate, searching for a team prepared to face new challenges together. Always trying to approach each day like a superhero. Endeavour to be the best version of yourself, help your team and go the extra mile. Making a real connection with people is important as well as efficiency and passion. Ready to go to the ends of the earth with a team that's not scared of a challenge.
